APEKSHIT SOLANKI

Apekshit Solanki founded LeenaAI in 2015 with 2 other IIT Delhi graduates and is now backed by YCombinator, which has previously funded companies like Airbnb, Quora, Dropbox, etc. They recently received $1 mill in seed investment.

Leena AI can help you improve employee experience & productivity in your organization via a conversational AI chatbot. This will reduce redundant workload from HR professionals so that they can take care of core HR responsibilities. Leena AI automates responses to employee queries related to company policies, payroll, leave management, benefits etc. by consuming all your policy documents & integrating with existing HRIS systems (eg. SAP, SuccessFactors, PeopleSoft, Oracle Fusion, Workday etc.) Today we're used by companies like Coca-Cola, RPG Group, Vedanta, Maruti Suzuki, etc.

Vad R, Founder, CEO: VadR is a Stealth mode startup in the Virtual Reality space, making some amazing solutions for Virtual Reality content developers. As part of the founding team, he is involved with product development and strategy development. Leads the team with goal setting and development.

Apekshit was a Business Analyst at Accenture Strategy prior to starting his journey as an entrepreneur. During his IIT-Delhi years he did an internship at Kakinada upgrading an oil rig's anchor system and an early internship at The Netherland's Leprosy Relief Foundation.
