

LEARN TO DRAFT
A PROJECT REPORT/RESEARCH PROPOSAL
(online sessions)
SSIP CELL-GEC-Godhra

COURSE INTRODUCTION

A well drafted and formatted project report or a research proposal is an essential element to score the positive attention of an evaluator. This may result in the impression of a student as a well prepared scholar towards the work presented by him/her. This program focuses to enhance the skill of a student to draft a good report/proposal.

COURSE METHODOLOGY

All the participants will be provided a code to join a google class room. At regular interval a video explaining the step by step procedure to draft a report/ proposal will be uploaded along with an assignment. Students need to learn the drafting using video instructions and submit assignment regularly. Any difficulty in understanding the instruction will be solved simultaneously in google classroom via comments.
