We are proud to announce that our student and SSIP Grantee Barnabas Thomas (B.Des. Batch: 2020-24) received the first Design Registration (IPR) certificate for his project 'A Better Compass'. Mentored by Prof. Milind Chitale and Prof. Nishita Kedia, the geometrical tool addresses flaws in regular compass with additional design elements, thus adding stability to the device. Besides, users can easily store the device in a pocket or backpack due to the lack of sharp points on the device, found in conventional devices.

At AnantU, India's first DesignX university, students are encouraged to apply design thinking skills and make a difference through various initiatives. Refer to the link in bio to know more about AnantU and avail the best design education.
