The event was started on time as per our tradition of Deep pragatya and saraswati vandana. The dignitaries on the stage were welcomed by the faculties with the bunch of flowers. Students are very enthusiastic and have helped in arrangements before the day of event. Setup of hardware along with Posters had already been done a day before.

After the welcome address by our head of department and some encouraging words by our senior faculties students are informed to reach their locations for the demonstration of their ideas in front of other faculties of different departments, students of all departments and in front of judges. The Jury members have started the jury round as per the evaluation sheets given to them at various locations.

After the completion of judgment by both the invited jury members students were asked to have lunch organized by department at GEC, Bharuch Canteen. After that all the students are asked to gather in model room of department to share their views/ experiences.

Mean while judges have their final judgment and have finalized the winners for three positions. They are given trophies and judges are given memento and letter of appreciation.

Students are advised together near the main entrance for batch photo. The event is successfully completed by the time and concluding remarks and encouraging speech was delivered by expert and head of the department. Head of department had also thanked principal for approval of organizing the event and allocated sufficient funds, other departments for arranging the project fair in various departments as well, all the staff members of department as they all have performed the assigned duty successfully and all the students for participating in huge numbers.
