

Entrepreneurship Development Centre

IIC Report

Incubation opportunities for students & faculties

Under ATL Linkage, an initiative of IIC

SSIP

Incubation Opportunities for Students & Faculties - Early Stage Entrepreneurs

Under ATL Linkage, an Initiative of IIC

Mr. Anup Chaudhari
Incubation Manager - PIERC

04 July
2023

Parul University

Event Brief

On July 4, 2023, Parul University organized an activity on Incubation opportunities for students & faculties for the ATL School Incharge and students of New Era Senior Secondary School and Baroda High School – Alkapuri Branch. The objective of this session was to provide the students and teacher with an exposure towards incubation facility and what all initiative taken by government to promote innovation and entrepreneurship at school level.

The session was taken by Anup Chaudary, Incubation Manager at Parul University. The session started with a brief introduction to incubation. Mr. Anup Chaudary explained what incubation is, how it works, and the benefits it can offer startups and innovation idea of students. He then discussed the different types of incubation programs available and benefit & opportunities provided by government to school students. He also emphasis on the importance of developing ideas into viable businesses. He shared some tips on how to do this, such as conducting market research, creating a business plan, and networking with other entrepreneurs. The session was concluded with a Q&A session. Overall, the session was well-received by the students and faculties. The session helped to raise awareness of incubation and the benefits it can offer startups.

