About Event:

The "Faculty & Student Sensitization Program" at the Department of Statistics, Sardar Patel University, aimed to sensitize statistics students and faculty members about SSIP 2.0 and SPSEC. Expert speakers Mr. Nirav Patel from SPU-SSIP-Navadhara and SPSEC delivered insightful presentations on SSIP 2.0's objectives, benefits, and application processes. Students enthusiastically explored opportunities for data-driven startups, statistical consulting, and research collaborations. The program fostered a culture of innovation, encouraging students to leverage statistical expertise for entrepreneurship.

Outcome of Event:

Few students presented groundbreaking ideas. Their ideas peers to push boundaries. We will support these visionaries with mentorship, resources, and industry connections. This initiative empowers statistics students to transform ideas into successful startups, fostering a vibrant culture of entrepreneurship and growth.
