The Gujarat Grassroots Innovation Augmentation Network (GIAN) organized the Student Innovation Workshop on Grassroots Innovations in collaboration with Zydus, GETCO, and GPCL to engage young minds in exploring grassroots innovation.

This workshop aimed to inspire students to think creatively about real-world problems and encourage them to design solutions that cater to the needs of rural and underserved communities.

Through interactive sessions, students gained exposure to the potential of grassroots innovations and how they can contribute to sustainable development. The initiative encourages students to explore grassroots innovations, fosters an innovative mindset, offers mentorship from industry experts, and facilitates networking opportunities for scaling and commercializing innovative ideas.

Students learned about successful grassroots innovations in agriculture, health, energy, and water conservation, inspired by case studies. They collaborated with industry experts to develop solutions, focusing on feasibility, scalability, and sustainability.

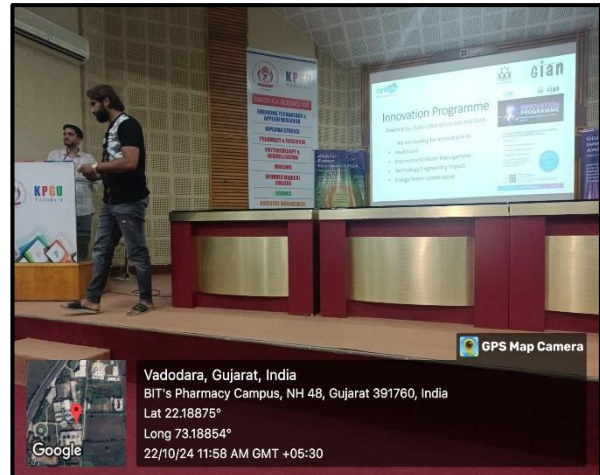

They also shared details of upcoming innovation awards are being organized in collaboration with reputed organizations like Zydus, GETCO, and GPCL. These awards aim to recognize outstanding Ideas/Innovations/contributions in the fields of Energy, Healthcare, Environment/Waste Management, Technology/Engineering impact, and Water conservation. Awards intend to provide National/State level platforms to the students/innovators/innovations in showcasing/displaying/ highlighting their efforts and connecting with like-minded professionals.
