About Event:

Karnavati School of Dentistry had organized a student sensitization program for the dental students of Gujarat. The objective of this program was to brief the students about startups and innovation in the field of dentistry and motivate the interns, post graduates and alumni for the possibilities of innovation in the niche areas of dentistry. The speakers briefed and focused on the niche areas in dentistry which has good potential for innovation. The speakers enlightened the students about the government's initiative in the area of startups and government's support for the startups including the Student Startup Innovation Policy and other government institutions like iHub, iCreate, etc., which are extending hands to students who wants work on innovative concepts. The students were briefed how entrepreneurship can be an adjunct to their medical career. Students were made aware about how a novel idea can be converted to startup and eventually a successful business.

Outcome of Event:

The students learned the concept of innovation and they were happy to hear about the government support for such initiatives. Students were interested and inquired about SSIP policy, the eligibility, and how can they avail these benefits.
