Summary:

The Right to Education is the fundamental right of every Indian citizen. Access to quality and affordable education opportunities plays a significant role in shaping a country's future. This is what National Education Day 2022 also aims at - to work towards promoting innovation, reducing socioeconomic inequalities, and strengthening educational institutions.

Entrepreneurship Development Centre, Parul University celebrates “National Education Day” on 11th November, 2022 to commemorate the birth anniversary of eminent educationist Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, and a prominent leader of the independence movement of the country. The objectives of celebrating National Education Day were to strengthen the educational institutions and to raise the quality of education to greater heights. A National Education Day aims to focus on reforms in education by making it more student-centric, inclusive, and innovative, improving quality, and promoting equitable education. The theme also emphasizes on making the Indian education system more adaptable to the changing global trends. The competition students highlighting the importance of education and the nation's commitment to all aspects of education. Many students participated with great enthusiasm

Many activities were organized such as debate, Quiz's and elocution competition. Additionally, university organized discussions and webinars to discuss the current problems and issues in the Indian education system. In these discussions, identified the issues in the system and also come up with possible solutions to these problems.

During debate competition students gave brief about National Education Day. One the students emphasized sustainability development, the spirit of enquiry, creativity, moral leadership, national educational policy, and commitment towards teaching and the importance of teacher educators. In the course of his speech, he mentioned that we have to reform our responsibility as teachers, as scholars and as participants working in the field of education to take this vision ahead. He mentioned the time of independence and the struggle of the leaders of the nation. When we got independence, then we started taking decisions for our educational system by the leaders of the nation, among whom Abdul Kalam Azad was one of the most prominent and significant personalities. He explained the significant points in national education policies and how today education is the contribution of the great leaders of our nation. He emphasized leadership and national responsibility. The Indian education system should be organized in a very systematic and ethical manner. The idea of education and the idea of institutionalization of education with a high quality of instructional ethics was the mission of Abul Kalam Azad.

Entrepreneurship Development Centre, Parul University also organizes two Webinars on “Holistic Education” By Dr. Shilpa S. Popat and also on “Integration Of Indian Knowledge System In Higher Education Institute” by Dr. S. Shenbagavali for the Faculty members and for the Students, in this webinar speaker taught the value our immense educational opportunities and not ignore the power of literacy. To further help those with less or no opportunity for quality primary education, schools can encourage students to donate their old/ unused books, and even distribute stationary materials to unprivileged children.
