Details of activity:

Anand Pharmacy College (APC) organized the Ideathon as part of TECHFEST MEGHDHANUSH 2.0 on 28th February 2025, supported by the IIC MoE Cell and SSIP. This event aimed to promote innovative thinking among students and to provide them a platform for presenting their ideas in a competitive environment.

Objective of the Event:

The primary objective of the Ideathon was to encourage students to develop creative and practical solutions to real-world problems. Participants were asked to propose innovative ideas and present them in front of a panel of esteemed evaluators. The event aimed to foster critical thinking, teamwork, and entrepreneurship among the students.

Planning and Execution:

The event was meticulously planned and executed, beginning with teams comprising students from APC as well as outside participants. Students were given a large list of topics one day prior to the event, from which they could select their preferred topic. They were then asked to prepare their presentations, models, or active prototypes based on the selected topic. The event schedule included team presentations. The presentation session took place at the Pharmacy Practice Cabin, where teams shared their ideas with the evaluators. The event was structured to ensure participants had ample time for idea development, feedback, and refinement.
