Industrial Visit Report

Date of Visit: 12th March 2025

Venue: i-Hub, Ahmedabad

Number of Students: 43

Faculty Accompanied: 3

1. Introduction

An industrial visit to i-Hub, Ahmedabad was organized by the Electronics and Communication Engineering Department of Government Engineering College, Gandhinagar on 12th March 2025. A total of 43 students from the EC branch participated in this visit, accompanied by three faculty members. The purpose of the visit was to bridge the gap between academic learning and real-world technological innovations and entrepreneurship.

2. About i-Hub

i-Hub (International Hub for Innovation and Entrepreneurship) is a state-of-the-art facility initiated by the Government of Gujarat, located at Gujarat University Campus, Ahmedabad. It is designed to support innovation, incubation, and start-up ecosystems in various domains including electronics, artificial intelligence, biomedical technology, IoT, and more. The hub provides a platform for innovators, researchers, and entrepreneurs to collaborate and convert ideas into sustainable solutions.

3. Objectives of the Visit

- To expose students to real-world applications of electronics and communication technologies.
- To provide insights into the start-up ecosystem and support mechanisms available for innovation.
- To interact with professionals and understand emerging trends in technology and entrepreneurship.
- To motivate students for interdisciplinary projects and entrepreneurial ventures.

4. Highlights of the Visit

A detailed presentation about i-Hub's vision, mission, and infrastructure was given by the coordinator. Students visited various labs and incubation centres within the facility.

Interactions with start-up founders working in areas like embedded systems, AI, and biomedical devices.

Live demonstrations of ongoing projects and prototypes.

Q&A session, where students clarified their doubts related to innovation and funding opportunities.

5. Outcome and Learning

The visit was highly informative and inspiring. Students gained valuable knowledge about innovation processes, government-supported incubation models, and the significance of interdisciplinary skills. The interaction with start-up founders and the exposure to real-world projects encouraged students to think beyond academics and consider research and entrepreneurship as viable career paths.

6. Conclusion

The industrial visit to i-Hub, Ahmedabad was a successful and enriching experience for the students and faculty members of the EC Department. It provided a deeper understanding of how theoretical concepts are applied in the real world and motivated students to explore their innovative potential.
