Introduction:

The Department of Biotechnology organized an insightful session titled “Entrepreneurship for Engineers” on 25th July 2025. The session was jointly conducted by Dr. Alok Kumar Yadav, Assistant Professor, and Mr. Kaushal Barot, an experienced innovation and entrepreneurship expert. The primary objective of the session was to encourage engineering students to explore entrepreneurship as a viable and impactful career path.

Learning:

The session covered various aspects of entrepreneurship, including idea generation, innovation, business model development, and startup funding. Dr. Yadav emphasized the role of research and technology in creating scalable solutions, while Mr. Barot guided students through the journey from concept to commercialization. Real-life examples and case studies were shared to illustrate how engineers can become successful entrepreneurs. The session was interactive and inspired active participation from students.

Conclusion:

The session proved to be highly informative and motivational. It broadened the perspective of engineering students, equipping them with foundational knowledge and confidence to think entrepreneurially. The department extends heartfelt thanks to both speakers for their valuable contribution and looks forward to more such initiatives in the future.
