Unitedworld Institute of Technology (UIT), Karnavati University, in association with KIIF, IIC, SSIP and EDC, recently hosted a thought-provoking panel discussion on “Opportunities of Entrepreneurship in AI and Cybersecurity”. The event brought together distinguished experts and innovators who shared valuable insights into one of the most critical and rapidly evolving domains of the future.

The esteemed panel comprised Mr. Anuj Teli, Mr. Paritosh Jani, Mr. Ankit Shah, Mr. Kaushik Pandya, and Mr. Harishchandra Rana. Their engaging discussion offered the audience a comprehensive perspective from identifying emerging threats in cyberspace to creating entrepreneurial opportunities in AI-driven solutions. The panellists highlighted how building a secure digital ecosystem is not just a technological need but also an entrepreneurial opportunity for the next generation.

Key conversations revolved around how businesses of the future will evolve, the rising significance of data security, and the scope for startups in cybersecurity and artificial intelligence. Students and innovators were encouraged to think beyond traditional career paths, to embrace entrepreneurship as a means of solving pressing global challenges. The speakers also underlined the importance of coupling innovation with intellectual property protection to ensure sustainability and long-term impact.

The session was more than just an academic discourse; it was a call to action for young entrepreneurs to harness the immense potential at the crossroads of AI and cybersecurity. By combining foresight, innovation, and responsibility, the next generation can play a pivotal role in creating intelligent, secure, and future-ready businesses. This panel discussion truly exemplified UIT’s commitment, in collaboration with KIIF, IIC, SSIP and EDC, to nurturing innovation-driven entrepreneurial ecosystems that empower students to become leaders in shaping the future of technology.
