One-Day Workshop on "Innovation in Literature and the Role of a Student in NAAC Assessment"

On February 9, 2026, Kavi Shree Daad Government Arts and Commerce College, Paddhari, successfully organized a one-day academic workshop under the "Innovation Ecosystem" framework. The central theme of the program was "Innovation in Literature and the Role of a Student in NAAC Assessment." The objective was to cultivate a mindset of innovative research among arts students and to familiarize them with institutional accreditation processes. The college was privileged to host Dr. Komalben Bhatt, Professor in the Department of Sanskrit at Government Arts and Commerce College, Jadar, as the expert speaker for the session.

During her highly engaging address, Dr. Bhatt conducted an in-depth discussion on the following key areas:

- Innovative Research in Literature: She guided students on how to look beyond traditional boundaries and apply innovative, creative, and analytical approaches to literary research.
- Student Participation in NAAC: Dr. Bhatt provided comprehensive insights into the evaluation process conducted by the NAAC (National Assessment and Accreditation Council) peer team. She clearly defined the vital role, responsibilities, and expectations of students during the college's assessment period.

  - Financial Support: He highlighted that under SSIP 2.0, students can receive financial assistance of up to INR 2.50 Lakhs for developing their innovations.
  - Intellectual Property (IP) Support: He informed the students that the policy provides 100% support for patent filing and IPR, encouraging students to protect their original literary or creative works.
- Additional Remarks and Attendance Dr. Jigneshbhai Upadhyay, Head of the Gujarati Department, delivered a thematic occasional speech focusing on the cultural relevance of innovation. The workshop saw enthusiastic participation from a large number of students. The entire faculty was present to support and mentor the students during the interactive sessions.
