

SSIP Activity Report

Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India, CrAdLE were delighted to host Mr. Hash Harshvardhan, MIT alumnus, for an insightful session on the topic "Technology Adoption and Integration for Traditional Industries" dated 15th April 2025. Drawing from his rich entrepreneurial journey and forward-thinking perspective, Mr. Harshvardhan shared practical approaches for seamlessly integrating technology into conventional sectors. His extensive experience and deep understanding of the evolving tech landscape brought valuable perspectives to the forefront, making the session highly engaging and enriching for all attendees.

Over 80 participants joined the live session, benefiting from Mr. Harshvardhan, an alumnus of MIT, USA.

Photos of the Event:

LIVE 21:41  73

Powered by

StreamYard

Harshvardhan

Mentor • Nurture • Grow

Catalyzed and Supported by
NSTEDB Division, DST, New Delhi

Entrepreneurship
Development
Institute of India
Ahmedabad

Startup Webinar

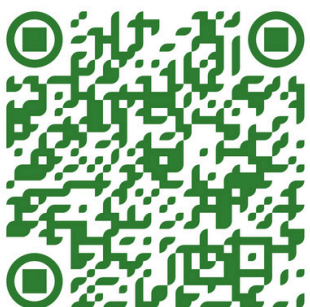

Technology Adoption and Integration for Traditional Industries

Strategies for introducing and implementing new technologies in established sectors

Harshvardhan

MIT Alumni, USA

Over 17 years of experience in building and operating complex logistics systems

● CrADLE - EDII

Scan the QR code to join the session

15 APRIL 2025

Start from 6:00 PM
Onwards

Mentor • Nurture • Grow

Catalyzed and Supported by
NSTEDB Division, DST, New Delhi

Entrepreneurship
Development
Institute of India
Ahmedabad

Startup Webinar

“

About the Speaker

Harshvardhan holds an engineering degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and has over 17 years of experience in building and operating logistics systems. At University of Massachusetts he is working with a team of accomplished engineers building novel food processing and distribution systems to fulfil the demand for delivering hassle-free nutrition at scale. In this talk he will talk about the lessons from his entrepreneurial journey so far and his plans for the near future”.

15 APRIL 2025

Start from 6:00 PM

Onwards