1. Introduction

A Startup Talk session was organized on 19 February 2026 at the Parul Innovation & Entrepreneurship Research Centre (PIERC), Parul University with the objective of promoting leadership, entrepreneurship, innovation, and strategic thinking among students.

The session was conducted by Sundeep Singh, who shared valuable insights on leadership, professional growth, adaptability, and long-term success in the rapidly changing business and technology environment.

The talk focused on the theme “In the Long Run: Leadership That Outlasts Cycles,” where the speaker discussed the importance of sustainable leadership, resilience, adaptability, and long-term vision in achieving success in both startups and corporate organizations.

The session created an engaging learning environment where students gained practical understanding about leadership qualities, decision-making, innovation-driven thinking, and the importance of staying consistent during changing market and business cycles.

2. Objectives of the Program

The key objectives of organizing the Startup Talk were:

- To provide students with practical insights from an experienced corporate leader.
- To promote leadership, entrepreneurship, and innovation-oriented thinking among students.

- To encourage students to develop long-term vision and strategic decision-making abilities.
- To create awareness about the importance of adaptability and resilience in professional growth.
- To bridge the gap between academic learning and industry expectations.
- To motivate students to build leadership qualities and future-ready skills.
- To strengthen the innovation and entrepreneurial ecosystem at PIERC and Parul University.

3. Details of the Program

The Startup Talk was organized on 19 February 2026 at PIERC, Parul University with active participation from 410 students across various disciplines.

During the session, Sundeep Singh shared valuable perspectives on leadership and the qualities required to sustain success in changing economic, technological, and business environments.

The speaker elaborated on the theme “In the Long Run: Leadership That Outlasts Cycles,” emphasizing that effective leadership is not limited to short-term achievements but is built through consistency, adaptability, resilience, and long-term thinking.

The session highlighted the importance of maintaining vision and stability during uncertain situations while continuously learning and evolving with industry changes. Students were encouraged to focus on strategic thinking, collaboration, innovation, and problem-solving to become impactful leaders and professionals.

The discussion also included insights related to corporate leadership, professional ethics, adaptability in the digital era, and the importance of balancing innovation with sustainable growth.

The interaction was highly engaging and insightful, enabling students to connect academic knowledge with real-world leadership experiences and industry expectations.
