A workshop on "Startup Awareness: Local to Global Opportunities" was organized under the Innovation Ecosystem Component of the Research, Innovation and Extension Grant. The session focused on entrepreneurship, startup opportunities and developing an entrepreneurial mindset among students.

The workshop covered two important sessions: "Rise of the Regional Innovator: Driving Local Startups and Entrepreneurs with Government Support" and "Design Thinking and Business Plan Development." The sessions focused on developing an entrepreneurial mindset, identifying local opportunities, understanding government support for startups, applying design thinking, and developing viable business ideas and plans.

Learning Outcome: Participants gained awareness about startup opportunities and government support mechanisms and developed an understanding of design thinking and basic business plan development for converting innovative ideas into potential entrepreneurial ventures.

Certificates were provided to the participants and resource persons.
