

AWARENESS SESSION REPORT

The State Model Institute of Ayurveda Sciences (SMIAS), Kolavada successfully organized a Student Startup and Innovation Policy (SSIP 2.0) Sensitization Session on 17th July 2026 to inspire students and faculty towards innovation, entrepreneurship, and startup culture.

Topic: Problem First, Solution Next

We were privileged to have Ms. Nehal Prajapati, Manager – Incubation, Karnavati Innovation & Incubation Foundation (KIIF), Karnavati University, as the resource person. She delivered an insightful session emphasizing problem identification, design thinking, innovation, startup opportunities, and government support available under SSIP 2.0.

The session witnessed enthusiastic participation from students and faculty members, encouraging them to transform innovative ideas into impactful solutions for society. Total number of students attended the session – 131.

SMIAS remains committed to fostering an ecosystem of innovation, research, and entrepreneurship among future Ayurvedic professionals.
